

Building Strong Foundations for a Lifelong Love of Learning

Vision 2027

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where our core values guide our every interaction with others; where these values are completely evident in all aspects of school life.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where we expect everyone to give their best; where everyone is treated as capable, resourceful and with the potential for a bright and successful future.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where children's holistic development is valued, promoted and celebrated, and where the systems, processes and environments support this.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where children learn amazingly well, as a result of excellent inclusive teaching, support and provision. It will be a place where the best inquiry-based practice is allied with other evidence-based approaches, resulting in skilful and knowledgeable children with a love of learning.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where the curriculum is broad, balanced and brilliant; where our offering equips pupils to thrive and contribute as global citizens, and where practitioners are empowered to shape and drive the learning, to inspire both them and their pupils.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where every member of our community can make a positive contribution to the school and the children's learning journeys, as a result of great relationships and support, inclusive communication and meaningful involvement.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where all staff are getting better at what they do and are empowered to take creative risks and challenge themselves; where staff take responsibility for self-improvement supported by clear expectations, targeted training and excellent in-house support and appraisal.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where we have a great reputation as a place where the most creative, committed and passionate staff want to work and where families really want to send their children – because of our well-known ethos and excellent holistic outcomes.

In 2027, Recreation Road Infant School will be a place where wellbeing is treasured; where we all give our absolute best in school but where it's possible to achieve a sustainable, balanced approach to life.
